

The Phoenix

Foreword

Your staff got to wondering about the word "Feenix" and what it meant. Their curiosity led to a conscientious search for its significance. They found no word spelled "Feenix" but did find the word "Phoenix".

According to the dictionary, "the Phoenix is a miraculous bird, fabled to live 500 years, to burn itself to death, and to rise again fresh and young out of its own ashes. Hence it is often an emblem of immortality."

Your staff decided to change the spelling of our title and to use the "Phoenix" emblem.

Class Prophecy

With graduation upon my mind, I had a very unusual dream last night. I dreamed it was the year 1965. Two ladies all dressed in white came walking toward me. At first, I was amazed. They came nearer and nearer, and at last I recognized them. And lo! Imagine my surprise as I saw before me the class of '52. Of course, the ladies in white were none other than Audrey Harris and Norene Varner, who were nurses at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore; and following close behind them was Doris Yates, who was dietitian at the same place.

Next in line was Ronnie Buzhardt, who was Master of Ceremonies of the Uncle Zeke Talent Show. Appearing on last night's program were Jackie Wood, Allen Fine, and Colon Terrell, known as "The Three Musketeers." They scored a great sensation by their new version of "Mule Train."

Who do I see here? Why, it's my old pal, Hope Hunt. She tells me that she is a lady wrestler. From what her friends say, she has a good chance in the Ladies' World Championship Series.

Before me stands a stylishly dressed lady. Goodness, if it isn't Alreta Snider, who owns "Al-Sider's Dress Shoppe" in Raleigh, North Carolina. Her leading model is Frances Hall, whose good looks and personality have won her many friends throughout the city.

Here comes a handsome gentleman bending as if he is studying footprints. Of course! It's Sidney Lanier, detective for the Z.B.I. Standing near him, leaning against a super-atomic model car, is Wayne Keith. This is the first car Wayne has designed, and it seems to be a hit. It's called the Keithoallac.

Well, look who's here! It's that famous skating couple, Nancy Garner and Joanna Snider. They own and operate the world's largest skating rink, which is located in San Francisco, California. Edith Craver, typing and shorthand star of the Class of '52, is their secretary.

Here comes a slender young girl with very little hair. You guessed it! It's Lina Belle Lamar, head lifeguard at Daytona Beach, Florida. Thus far in her career she has rescued ten people.

As I turn around to see who is singing behind me, I come face to face with Billy Ann Mitchell. She's the rising young star on Broadway and is at present playing in the musical hit "Othello." This fine play is written and directed by none other than the prominent Dorothy McDowell.

In the group I spy a very intelligent looking person. Upon investigation, I find it is Alletta Daniels, Professor of English at the University of North Carolina. She has just written a book on this subject which will be used in all public schools. Talking eagerly to Professor Daniels is Peggy Morris. I find that she is the official buyer for all M. A. Pickett's fifteen stores. This must be quite a job, but Peggy has had lots of experience and takes it all in her stride.

I am now being introduced to the "North Carolina Farmer of the Year." Would you believe it? It's Ralph Carroll. He owns a 500-acre farm in the heart of Handy. Standing nearby are Reece Hedrick and Bernard Ferrell, who own a large dairy in Georgia. They're really raking in the dough, from what I hear.

Looking very happy indeed is my old pal, Kate Floyd, and I soon hear the reason why. Her girls' basketball team, The Lucky Ladies, has just won its tenth straight game. If they win their next game, which is to be played in Madison Square Garden, they will be declared Ladies' Basketball Champs.

Peering through the crowd, I see a young lady dressed in a blue uniform. Well, fancy this! It is Wynell Frank. She tells me that she flew out to California to visit her brother and liked flying so much she became an airline hostess. Among her recent passengers was a former classmate, Jane Harrison. Jane, after graduating from Oklahoma University, has been doing research work on cures for "Charley-horses." She flies to France to continue her study next week.

Now I see before me four children, all hanging onto their mother's skirt. Of course, the mother is Mrs. Leon Russell, the former Betty Jo Hopkins. The way Betty straightened out those kids made me think she would have made a grand school teacher.

Smoking an expensive cigar and looking very pleased with himself is Don Morris. He is a chain store owner, having Morris Grocery Stores in five states. Not bad, Don!

Chatting away gaily, I see two popular members of the Senior Class of '52. They are Betsy Stokes and Mrs. Johnny Coppley, Jr. Betsy has been pursuing her talent for art at the Columbia University in New York. One of her latest paintings won the Lane Scholarship, donated by Mrs. Mary W. Lane, of Denton. Sara is a career wife. While Johnny is away in the Navy, she takes care of Connie Sue and Johnny, III, and writes novels in her spare time. Her first novel, Make Mine Chocolate, was highly praised by New York critics.

Well, here's our old friend, Bill Scoggins. He says that he is playing professional basketball in Texas. His foul shot was the winning point in the important game last night. Coach Bill Ross was well pleased with him!

Imogene Beck tells me that she is a beautician in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. I understand she owns her own salon and does a thriving business. Just around the corner an old classmate, Betty Jo Seabolt, runs a coffee shoppe. Her doughnuts fairly melt in your mouth.

Now I see before me Bud Buie, who is boys' coach at Duke University. His football team is undefeated thus far in the season.

Nearing the back of the group I find my old friend and neighbor, Margie Snider. She likes school so well that when she finished college, she came right back and took Mrs. Lane's place on the Denton High School Faculty. And now Mrs. Lane, who was so good to us as a teacher, is doing just as grand a job as mother to five adopted boys.

Suddenly I was jarred into reality by the shrill whistle of an approaching train. I jumped up quickly and my books fell closed. I realized it was about 3:00 a. m. for the H.P.T. and D. was flying by. All my classmates had vanished as the last sound of the train faded away into the distance. What a pleasant dream I had had!

Class History

Having concluded that the history of any high school or college class is not simply the narrative of four years of school attendance, I will give my version of what constitutes our history.

Looking back into the years, we find our high school career influenced not only by our contemporaries but also by preceding classes and faculties. It bears the trademark of teachers, past and present, the imprint of students who have frequented these halls and classrooms before us and left their influences for good or bad, and the memories of teachers who introduced certain customs for this or that.

Behind our history, also, are the teachers who taught long hours for scarcely any pay; the rugged pioneers who cut the native pines for lumber and built the first crude schoolrooms, the minds who looked into the future and longed for greater educational opportunities. Behind us are those who have labored long and endlessly for more and better schools.

Our class drew strength from these thoughts; and with this strength we, fifty-five green Freshmen, entered high school in the fall of 1948 determined to add our bit, however small, to the history of Denton High School. Under the supervision of Mr. A. M. Snider we soon outgrew our green ways and entered into the activities and routines of the place which has held such an important spot in our lives.

Before we knew it the nine months had come and gone; we found ourselves Sophomores.

A few of our classmates did not return with us that year; but we were joined by others, and the wheels turned on. What torture those Biology quizzes were, and how we wasted paper writing 30-page themes in Ancient History! However, with the guidance of Mr. George Lyndon, we survived with only a small amount of damage done.

As our Junior year progressed, we began to feel and work more as a class. All of us realized that graduation was not far off, and we wished to make those days glorious ones. Our class rings were ordered and received, and they have become cherished possessions. We took the Seniors and Faculty on a very enjoyable trip down the Mighty Mississippi on our own "Showboat". A few weeks later we went, with our audience, out West to visit the "Angel of Red Canyon". Both of these events were highly successful, thanks to Miss Linda Wilson, Class Sponsor, and Betsy Stokes, Class President. Time marched on, and so did we!

Those summer days were all too short, and we returned for the final lap, this Senior year. Only thirty-six proud, undignified Seniors assembled here. Billy Anne Mitchell was elected President, and she has guided us through many memorable events. Now our days of fun and schooling at Denton High are over.

As a class, as individuals, we wish to say "thanks" to Mrs. E. O. Lane, our Senior Sponsor, to our parents, our many friends, and especially to Mr. Huss, without whose help this day would not be possible. We hope your efforts and the efforts of those before you have not been in vain.

We leave to the School, to you, and to the memories of those before us our sincere gratitude and devotion.

JANE HARRISON, Class Historian.

Song

(Tune: Look for the Silver Lining)

Farewell dear Denton High School
As graduation time now appears.
We've worked together for many years
And now we're having to part
With sadness in each heart
Our teachers have been so thoughtful
As they have helped in all our strife
We'll always remember each friend we've made here
And may you have the very best in life.

Joanna Snider, Class Song Writer.

Class Poem

If you'll closely look upon my cheek,
I think you'll find a tear,
You ask me why you saw it there?
You'll find the answer here.

The time will come when we must go
And leave old Denton High;
The reason for my sadness is—
This time is much too nigh.

To our teachers we are grateful,
They have shared our work and fun;
And now we only hope that we
Have left no job undone.

This dear old school has been our ship,
And we have been the crew.
Our voyage is done, and we must go—
The class of fifty-two.

Sidney Lanier, The Class Poet

Class Will

We, the Senior Class of "52" of Denton High school, supposedly possessing a high degree of intelligence and confidence with certainty our graduation, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I.—To the Faculty

1. To Mr. Huss we will high school boys that don't smoke and moth balls to put in his blue sweater.
2. To Mr. Lyndon we will new equipment for a science laboratory.
3. To Mr. Snider we will a new "60" Ford.
4. To Miss Wilson we will a truck of Curtiss candy.
5. To Mr. Ross we will a basket ball period as long as the girls.
6. To Mr. Kluttz we will a pair of johnnie walkers.
7. To Miss Hoover we will a shorthand room.
8. To Mrs. Hoyle we will a glee club that can get three fingers in their mouths.
9. To Mrs. Lane we will a sound proof wall between her room and study hall.
10. To Mr. Crola Snider we will a broom as wide as the hall.

ARTICLE II.—To the Junior Class

To the Junior Class we will our ability to get along, settle all difficulties, and have fun.

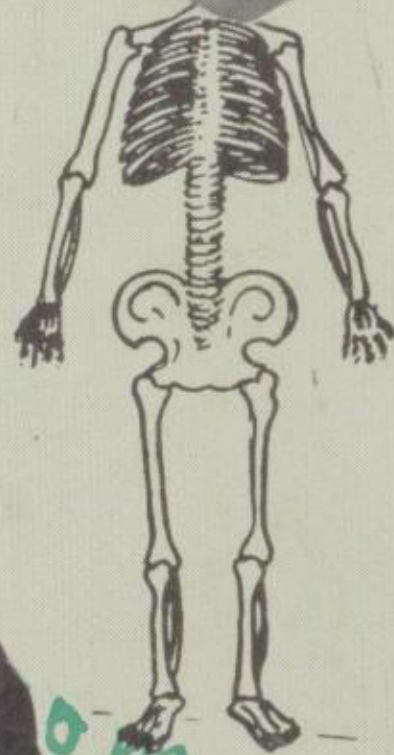

ARTICLE III.—Class Will

- I, Bernard Ferrell, will Bob Morris the rest of my T-model.
I, Colon Terrell, will to Mr. Ross a bottle of "Smoke-No-More" tablets for his boys' basketball team.
I, Sidney Lanier, will my fiendish methods to Ralph Cook.
I, Don Morris, will Eugene Peacock a crash helmet.
I, Bill Scoggins, bequeath to Jimmy Huffman my ability to get along with Mr. Ross.
I, Jack Wood, will my place as cheer leader to Pat Harrison.
I, Ralph Carroll, will my red wavy hair to Charles R. Staley.
I, Reece Hedrick, will my ability to leave school at dinner to Eugene Andrews.
I, Ronnie Buzhardt, will my long side burns and hair to Norman Keith.
I, Allen Fine, will my presidency in Agriculture to Carl Glover.
I, Edward Buie, will Mr. Kluttz my ability to smoke and get tickets for driving offenses.
I, Margie Snider, will my quiet ways to Floyd Cook.
I, Audrey Harris, will my love for French to anyone who needs it.
I, Edith Craver, will my love for shorthand to Gertrude Russell.
I, Betty Jo Seabolt, will my shyness to Pattie Cranford and Peggy Yates.
I, Frances Hall, will my quiet ways in study hall to Don Rea Grubb.
I, Lina Belle Lamar, will my short, curly hair to Nancy Crouse, in hopes that she will let it grow out.
I, Alletta Daniels, will my place in Beta Club to Brown Loftin.
I, Alreta Snider, will my friendly smile and wittiness to Charles Loftin.
I, Hope Hunt, will my big feet to Jane Tillotson, in hopes that they will always get her to school on time as they have me.
I, Kate Floyd, will my place on first team to Nan Morris.
I, Margaret Hedrick, will my dimples to Sue Cole.
I, Peggy Morris, will my ability to do bookkeeping to Jerry Cole, in hopes that he won't be called dumb.
I, Norene Varner, will my Beta Club pin to James H. Loftin.
We, Betty Jo Hopkins and Doris Yates, will our day dreaming in class to Frances Carrick and Jo Ann Garner.
We, Joanna Snider and Nancy Garner, will our shoeskates to Gilbert Futrell and Bobby Garner.
We, Imogene Beck and Wynell Frank, will our friendship to Mr. Lyndon and Nancy Doby.
We, Betsy, Jane, Billy Ann, and Sara, will our everlasting friendship and ability to giggle to Jean Tysinger, Lottie Ruth Little, Alberta Daniels, and Patricia Morris.
I, Dorothy McDowell, will my talkative ways to Sarah Ruth Seabolt.

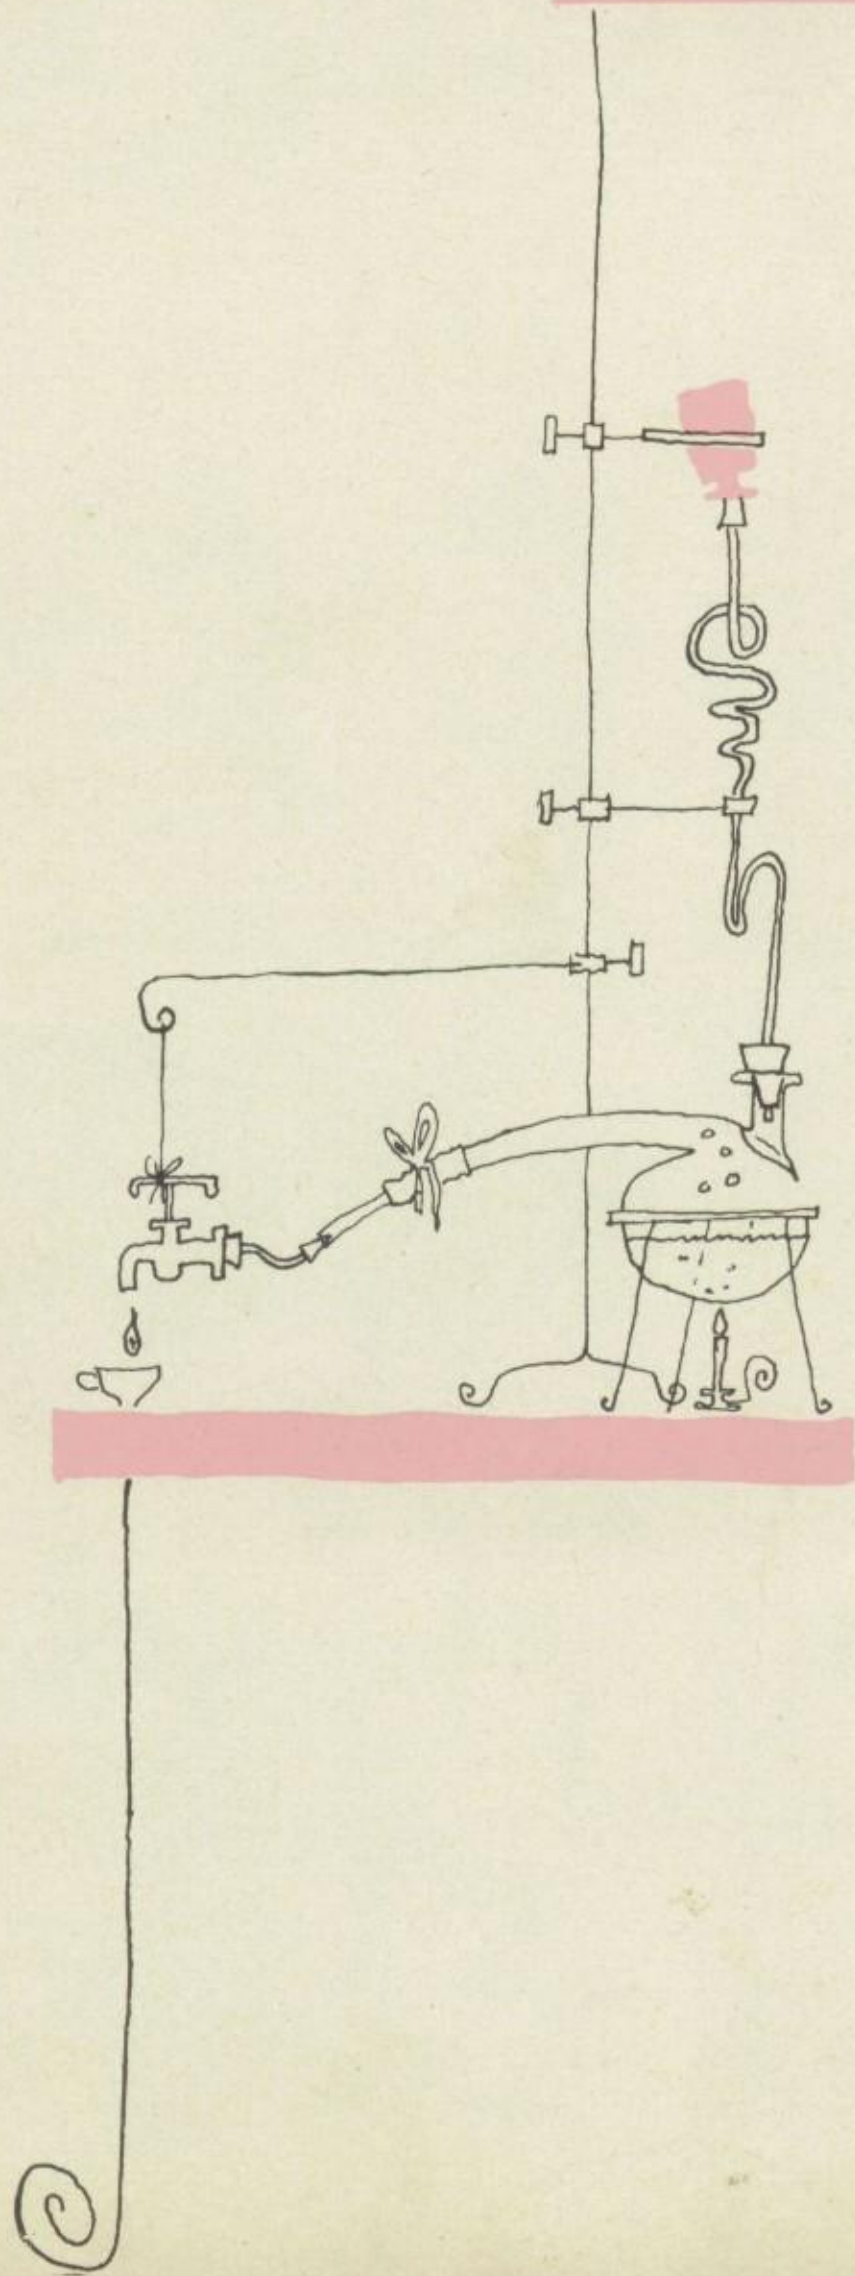

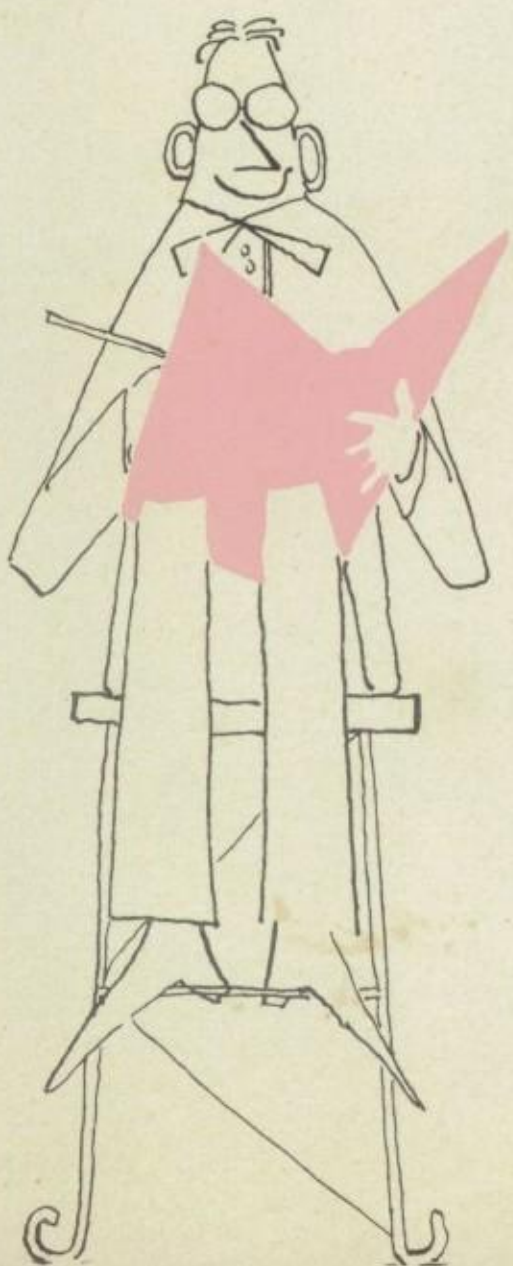

In Witness Whereof, I do hereby set my hand and seal this.....day of
